What Happened ?

Your water is routinely monitored for turbidity (cloudiness) to determine if it is being properly filtered. Water samples taken on _____ (date) had turbidity levels of _____ turbidity units. This is above the allowable standard of _____ turbidity units. Because of the elevated turbidity, there is an increased chance that your drinking water may contain harmful microbes.

Turbidity alone has no health effects. But it can interfere with disinfection, allow harmful microbes to grow, and may indicate the presence of harmful microbes, including bacteria, viruses, and parasites. These can cause diarrhea, cramps, nausea, headaches, or other symptoms and may pose a special health risk for infants, some elderly, and people with severely compromised immune systems.

But these symptoms are not just caused by microbes in drinking water.

If you experience any of these symptoms and they persist, you should seek medical advice.
