

What elements of the current IT systems (i.e. SHIN-NY and RHIOs) can be used to build a better system to capture, monitor and report healthcare utilization and outcome data and facilitate better evidence-based practices and funding strategies?

Massachusetts has done some fantastic work towards building a state-wide interoperable E.H.R. network. This report details some of the work done by the Massachusetts eHealth Institute-the agency developed to accelerate this process. Perhaps there are strategies that we can leverage from their experiences here in New York.

MeHI-Research-Report-2014-final.pdf

Message by Matthew St. Pierre

1

On november 21, 2014 at 14:33 - 71 views, 0 replies, 1 follower

Reply to this contribution...